About Jim

Jim Harris, one of our most popular workshop speakers, received his Bachelor of Social Work degree at Morehead State University and his Master of Social Work degree in Clinical Social Work at the University of Kentucky. He completed an Education Specialist degree with emphasis in curriculum and instruction at Marshall University, and is working on a Doctoral degree focusing on childhood behavioral disorders, also at Marshall. Jim is an Ohio Licensed Independent Social Worker Supervisor (LISW-S), and a West Virginia Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker (LICSW). He is currently in private practice at Oasis Behavioral Health Services located in Barboursville, West Virginia and is the owner of Opportunities Consulting Services. Jim is also an adjunct faculty member at Marshall University in the School of Education.

Jim has made it his life's work to help people reach their potential. He has a variety of training and experience in treating behavioral health and social issues. Jim has presented at numerous conferences from the local to the national level. This year, he was selected as one of only twenty-five professionals internationally to participate in a roundtable event exploring early life issues for children and families. Jim's "real world" approach to some of the toughest topics in the helping professions has made him a crowd favorite wherever he presents.

We are pleased to present Jim Harris, M.S.W., Ed.S. as the Keynote Speaker for the 2011 Spring Continuing Education Conference for Social Workers.
